

Regulations on the use and management of the lockers
in the 921 Earthquake Museum of Taiwan

1. The 921 Earthquake Museum of Taiwan (hereinafter referred to as the Museum) has installed lockers in its Service Center to provide visitors with temporary storage space. These regulations are established for the effective use and management of the lockers.
2. The lockers are provided for free use. To use a locker, please register at the Service Center counter and leave your ID to get the locker key.
3. The locker keys should be kept securely and returned before the borrowers leave the Museum. In case of loss or damage, compensation should be paid according to the original price.
4. If a locker is damaged due to improper use by the user, compensation should be paid according to the original price; the same goes for damage of other items inside the locker. .
5. The lockers are for temporary storage only. The Museum shall not be held liable for the safekeeping of the stored items. Please keep important items, money and documents with you.
6. For safety and sanitation reasons, it is prohibited to store hazardous items, pets, food, perishable materials, banned items, etc. in the lockers.
7. Storage in a locker is limited to the day an item is stored. For items not retrieved before closing hours, the Museum has the right to dispose of the stored items as unwanted materials and shall not be held liable for compensation.
